

From: Lucia Foley
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/14/02 3:19pm
Subject: Bonanza

The proposed "punishment" for Microsoft seems, in fact, to be a marketing bonanza for the company that facilitates the sort of non-competetive actions the firm is to be sanctioned for. This makes absolutely no sense whatsoever, and will simply assist Microsoft in killing the competetion for once and for all--and far more rapidly than they could on their own. The existence of other operating systems such as Apple and Linux is essential for encouraging innovation and keeping pricing competetive.

Lucia Foley

--

Lucia Foley
Director of Communications
Hampshire Educational Collaborative
97 Hawley Street
Northampton, MA 01060
413-586-4900 x109 / 413-586-0180 fax
www.collaborative.org
e-mail: info@collaborative.org